

Newsletter Subscription - Terms of Use

If you subscribe to our newsletter, send us an email, or use our feedback form, you'll share some details, such as your name and email. No worries, though – we use this info strictly to handle your questions or comments or send you updates on our events. And just so you know, it's all in line with the Alberta Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (the FOIP Act).

Data Protection

Your details stay safe and are only shared with authorized personnel who need it to help you out. Your privacy matters to us!

Frequency of Communication

As a valued member of our community, you can look forward to staying in the loop with the latest happenings through our periodic newsletters. Packed with updates, announcements, and all things lively, these newsletters are your key to unlocking the full potential of our events.

Unsubscribe Option

If at any time you wish to stop receiving our newsletter, a "change email preferences" link is included at the bottom of each email. Clicking on this link will remove your email address from our mailing list, and you will cease to receive further communications.

Changes to Terms

SABVC reserves the right to update or modify these terms at any time. Subscribers will be notified of significant changes via email. Continued subscription implies acceptance of the updated terms.

Agreement

By subscribing to the Students' Association of Bow Valley College (SABVC) newsletter, you acknowledge that you have read and understood these terms of use and agree to comply with them.

Contact Information

If you have any questions, concerns, or requests regarding your subscription or the use of your information, please contact us at info@sabvc.ca.
